NEWSWEEK came out Monday with the first installment of excerpts from "The Final Days," those weeks "knelling the death" of the Nixon Administration in the summer of 1974. It is by Bob Woodward and Carl Bernstein, authors of the "All The President's Men" and the Washington Post reporters who broke the Watergate story and earned the Pulitzer Prize for reporting.

Somebody said, to paraphrase, that lack of wisdom may be excused in journalism, but a lack of courage is inexcusable.

This is an example of reportorial courage, but not an example of wisdom. And considering what has gone ahead of this book, there is a question of taste and timing in this publication.

Leon Jaworski, the man who in effect closed out the case against Richard Nixon the President, said not many months ago "he doubted if he, Jaworski, would have survived" what Nixon experienced.

First installment of "The Final Days" dwells on the Nixon who is said to be drinking heavily, the personal consequences of a life dedicated to politics, a scene about Kissinger and Nixon which ends with the former President curled on a rug like a baby.

If all this is true, it is all there. Corroboration is "two ply" NEWSWEEK explains of the intense reportage of Woodward and Bernstein. Reportorial gall is a foot thick heading for a stack of money.

A classic chasm existed between the Nixon Administration and the Washington Post-NEWSWEEK empire headed by Mrs. Katherine Graham. It was frequently reported a vendetta was unleashed on The Post, The New York Times, the network television broadcasters, and others identified as the "Eastern liberal press."

NEWSWEEK seems to have the last word on this particular vendetta.

Beside the first of a two-part series of "The Final Days," there is a movie review of reporters Bernstein and Woodward as portrayed by Dustin Hoffman and Robert Redford in a film version of "All the President's Men."

There is also a column by George F. Will, "The Way He Was," tracing the events and political and personal failures of the former President.

No one has to write apologies for a man who was congressman, senator, vice-president, and president. Richard Nixon dished out the political pain and took it.

But the man leaving the White House that August day in 1974 was not a whole man or the whole politician who entered in January 1969.

Every president aspires to be a great man, but often he fails. Nixon's failure was monumental and threatened, until it was tested, the constitutional government of this nation.

But he was a big man. And we think the Lilliputians write about a Gulliver. Fortunately, this nation is bigger than both.

Noon Lions To Hear Program On Red China

A presentation on modern-day China will be the program for Cameron Noon Lions on Monday, April 12 when they meet at The Texan.

Making the presentation will be Dr. Lee H. Smith, president of Southwest Texas State University, San Marcos.

Dr. Smith toured China as part of a 21-member delegation of 20 state college and university presidents and the executive director of the American Association of State Colleges and Universities, (AASCU), Dr. Allan Ostar. They visited the People's Republic of China in April 1975.

Dr. Smith was the only Texas president among the AASCU delegation. AASCU received the tour invitation through the efforts of Sen. Henry M. Jackson, who visited the People's Republic the previous year.

The group visited six Chinese cities - Canton, Shanghai, Soochow, Wush, Nanking, and Peking. They visited medical schools, factories, various colleges and universities, industrial exhibits, and hospitals.

Smith spent weeks prior to the trip researching China - people and policies - learning some of the language, and visiting with people who were experts on China or had visited there.

Dr. Smith will be accompanied by his wife.

Firm Asks Delay For County Audit

County Judge O. B. Harden has notified The Herald that the scheduled county audit will start on Monday, May 10 instead of the original date of April 19.

Judge Harden received a letter from Harris, Havens & Co., which will do the job, that vacations scheduled for some workers and the Easter holidays make it necessary for the firm to change the audit date.

2 Area Youths Die In Separate Accidents

Two area youths were killed in separate accidents over the weekend, one dead when he was struck by lightning, and the other was the result of a truck-pedestrian accident.

Bobby Wayne Terrell, 14, son of Mrs. Nancy Gribble of Rogers and Jack Terrell of Clifton, was struck by lightning about noon Sunday as he and a cousin, Harry Lewis, were returning to the Lewis home three miles south of Rogers.

They had been playing near a stock pond near the home when they were called by Lewis' mother to come home, Rogers City Marshal Richard Franklin said. Justice of the Peace Eugene McKenzie of Rogers ruled the death accidental.

Young Terrell was born in Clifton and was a seventh grade student in the Rogers Junior High School.

A nine-year-old Rosebud boy died Friday night in Scott and White Hospital at Temple of injuries he received in a Friday afternoon truck-pedestrian accident on State Highway 53 near Rosebud.

The boy was identified as Sammy Ramirez, 9, of Highway 53, Texas Highway Patrolman David Mayes said.

The boy and his younger brother apparently were standing on the north side of the highway in front of their home and attempted to run across the highway, Mayes said.

The boy was struck by a west-bound pickup truck driven by Edward Joe Schiller of Rt. 2, Rosebud, he said.

The younger brother was unhurt. Sammy was rushed to Scott and White by a Green Funeral Home ambulance. Hospital authorities said he died at 8:25 p.m.

Funeral for young Terrell was at 2 p.m. Monday in the Gommert Funeral Home in Rogers with the Rev. Shelby Jones officiating. Burial was in the Terrell Cemetery near Clifton.

Surviving are his parents; one brother, Jerry Terrell of Ro-

Rain-Slick Overpass Claims 2 More Lives

Two men were killed Sunday night in Milano at the scene of where other fatal accidents have taken place, the overpass of Highway 79.

The accident involved a pickup truck driven by C. B. Minter of Franklin and a tractor-trailer truck driven by Jack Martin of Clovis, N. M.

Minter and his passenger, identified as James Faulkner of Gause, were both dead at the scene of the head-on collision at 9:30 p.m. Martin was not hurt.

The truck was headed west and the pickup headed east when the accident occurred in the west bound lane during a rainstorm.

This is the same location at which country-western singer Johnny Horton was killed in 1960, and the same place where two Gause men were killed last year.

Funeral service for Faulkner, 51, was held at 2 p.m. Tuesday at the Gause Full Gospel Church with Rev. Billy Sparks officiating. Burial was in the Gause Cemetery.

He was born April 13, 1924 in Gause and was a veteran of World War II.

He is survived by one brother, Bill Faulkner of Gause; three sisters, Mrs. Ruby Jones of Pasadena, Mrs. Mary Lunsford of Houston, and Mrs. Brice Schokley of San Antonio. Green funeral Home was in charge.

Gommert received 99 votes, Sherman 91, and Crow 72. Lupe Munoz received 51 votes and Frank Tucker received one vote.

In school balloting, voters elected two trustees.

Darrell Henson, the only incumbent in the race, was re-elected. He got 133 votes. Dr. Ray Haywood, the other winner, received 115 votes.

Other candidates were Gary Tucker with 100 votes and Darrel Cobb, who received 62 votes. Incumbent Sherman Mayfield chose not to run.

In the mayor's race, N. E. Alford Sr. polled 774, over L. C. Menaffey, 641. Incumbent Darrel Walker did not seek re-election.

In the race for city council, James V. Jones drew 946 votes to defeat incumbent Collier Perry, 430 votes, for the west ward seat. The east ward seat went to Mrs. Margie Abbott, who received 1009 votes to Ernie Miller's 405.

Rally 'Round Reality?...

Gerald Ford won in Wisconsin 55 to 44 per cent over Ronald Reagan and liberal Mo Udall carried the Democratic side over Jimmy Carter.

Scoop Jackson showed well in New York, ahead of Carter and the President apparently carried without any problem in the New York primaries which nominate delegates for candidates, indeed what primaries are supposed to do. Udall also showed well enough in New York to stay in contention.

While then the Democratic ledger is showing gains for liberal Udall, the President is back in the primary competition after Reagan's upset in North Carolina.

Other major tests await both parties in Pennsylvania and Texas. It's a repetitious business.

It brings to mind the need for a national primary date when all or most states might hold their primaries on the same day and get baby-kissing, hotdog and blintz-eating done in a few weeks.

The parties could get to their conventions and work on platforms which are responsive to the needs of the 1970 and 1980s, not the memories of New Deal, Fair Deal, New Federalism, New Frontier, Great Society and the rhetoric of 40 years down the tube with Watergate and Vietnam.

Maybe the Bicentennial presidential winner can rally us around reality.

Meanwhile, the primaries continue.

If It's He, He's Home...

An autopsy of the 90-pound remains of Howard Hughes, 70, showed he died of kidney failure.

Fingerprints, X-rays and dental work were checked to ascertain the body indeed was that of the billionaire-recluse who was alive when his Lear jet left Acapulco. Doctors accompanying Hughes said he died in flight.

Washington columnist Jack Anderson advised IRS officials in Washington to get representatives to the Houston hospital to check on the tax residuals his death will provide.

At mid-week, officials said Hughes would be buried privately in secret ceremonies at a Houston site not identified for the press.

Conjecture had it for years that Hughes already was dead. The power of his holdings moved the federal government to compel divestiture of his majority control of TWA Airline stock some years ago. It was staged over a period of years to assure no weakening of the New York stock market.

Hughes about seven or eight years ago went into Las Vegas and began buying up enormous hunks of land for "industrial development" and hotels along the Strip. Some his companies still own.

Nobody, other than aides who are as invisible as he, has seen the man since he wore a moustache and had dark hair. A picture said to be Hughes was published in 1972, showing a bald, jowly man with gray hair at the temples.

If indeed it is Howard Hughes, he has come home.

King Cotton Goes West...

King Cotton long ago began his move to West Texas. And a new report shows in numbers of cotton gins how graphic, how dramatic, how remote cotton is from its once titular hold on Central and East Texas agriculture.

The report is from Natural Fibers Economic Research of the University of Texas--Austin.

We quote:
Year Area No. of Gins Tot.
1915-16 Cen-Tex 1,179
1915-16 Eas-Tex 1,250
Cen-Eas-Tex reg. 2,429

1915-16 No Hi-Plains 4
1915-16 So. Hi-Plains 24
1915-16 Rolling Plains 323

1974-75 Cen-Tex 157
1974-75 Eas-Tex 23

1974-75 No Hi-Plains 95
1974-75 So. Hi-Plains 272
1974-75 Rolling Plains 150
West Texas regions 427

The total number of gins in Texas had decreased from 4,093 in 1915-16 to 916 in 1974 - 75. Almost half of these are in West Texas. Only about 20 per cent of the gins are in East and Central Texas combined.

King Cotton is probably a count or duke in this part of Texas, but a poor one. He reigns where the water flows from wells, where irrigation counters the unpredictability of weather.

The myth lasted here at least a decade longer than fact. It will last as long as memory for those who look back.

Texas Battleground For Candidates

Texas will be a battleground of presidential candidates this month.

Ninety-eight Democratic delegates and 96 Republican delegates will be selected in the May 1 presidential preference primary—among the top half dozen from any state.

Democrats will pick another 32 delegates and their 70 alternates in the June 19 state convention. Republicans will name only four delegates at their June convention.

Republican Ronald Reagan, in addition to his Texas campaign swing this week, plans additional visits April 13-14 and April 29-30.

President Ford reportedly will spend this weekend in Texas and return April 28-29.

Democrat front-runner Jimmy Carter will be in the state April 20 and probably again just before the May 1 primary. His son, Chip, tried the Texas water last weekend.

U.S. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, seeking favorite son Democratic designation as well as re-election, is spending nearly fulltime on the campaign trail this month.

George Wallace's supporters say he will show up soon after this week's Wisconsin primary.

Democrat Fred Harris is expected April 27-30 and perhaps for a warmup visit earlier.

Session Pushed

Legislators continued to shower Gov. Dolph Briscoe with proposals for a special legislative session to curb skyrocketing utility bills.

They ranged from tax relief schemes to special low-low rates for small homeowners. Briscoe apparently encouraged the special session speculation, but made no firm promises.

Comptroller Bob Bullock warned that fiddling with the utility tax structure would save the consumer no more than "chicken feed" on electric and gas bills. Bullock suggested legislators concentrate on turning around the rate structure which now provides lowest rates to largest users and highest rates to homeowners.

Law Protested

Food and beverage "chains" are concerned about Alcoholic Beverage Commission plans to enforce strictly a law requiring liquor license holders to be three-year residents of Texas—or corporations to be majority-owned by Texans.

ABC Commissioner Luke Robinson has backing of the commission in enforcing the law, which may stop sales of beer, wine and whiskey in many national supermarket, hotel and restaurant chain outlets.

More Revenue Promised

Comptroller Bullock claims changes in office procedures can bring in another million dollars a year in interest to the state.

Bullock proposes to earn the additional money by getting tax revenue to the

Dear editor:

There's nothing worse than thinking up a brilliant idea only to find out somebody else has beat you to it.

Now nearly all of us have been guilty of criticizing and poking fun at the Postal Service, so I decided it was time somebody started coming to the outfit's rescue with some constructive suggestions.

As I understand it, the Postal Service is losing a tremendous amount of money, and to offset this is considering limiting its service, say to delivering mail maybe only three days a week.

However, to do that, it's obvious the volume of mail would have to be reduced, and I have hit on what I thought was the perfect way to do it. It's simple: stop teaching kids how to read and write. I guarantee that'll decrease the volume of mail in one generation and put the Postal Service back on its feet.

I mentioned this idea to a friend and he said, "Man, you're behind the times. The schools are way ahead of you. They're already turning out high school graduates who can't read and write. The schools are on their toes. They figured out the solution to the problems of the Postal Service long before you did."

Sometimes a man might as well sleep as think. I'll try another subject. People are always criticizing weathermen. "We may get a rain tomorrow," they'll say, "the forecaster said it'd continue dry."

This is just another example of the cynicism that's so popular these days. If the weatherman, consulting high and low pressures and the upper wind patterns, predicts continued dry and it rains, he didn't make a mistake. The weather made a mistake.

Or take Secretary of State Kissinger. If he threatens maybe military action against Cuba if it doesn't keep its troops out of other countries a lot of people jump on him and say where does he get authority to do such a thing? It's just another case of not having all the facts. How do such people know whether or not Kissinger can fly a fighter bomber?

Yours faithfully,

bank faster pending records processing. Tax receipts would go directly to a treasury suspense fund.

Courts Speak

A divided State Supreme Court concluded unmarried fathers have no constitutional right to be involved in lives of their children.

The Court of Criminal Appeals reversed two Dallas murder convictions and a conviction for fraudulent misrepresentation in selling securities.

In other cases, the Supreme Court:

—Upheld a 15 per cent hike in Houston electric rates that had been rejected by the city council but ordered by lower courts.

—Threw out a request of 14 prisoners to force the attorney general to examine their complaints against the prison system.

—Declined to order the State Supreme Court to enter a final order on pass-through by Lo-Vaca Gathering Company to consumers of all its additional natural gas costs.

—Refused to enter money damages to a Fort Worth family of a woman who died on an operating table in a hospital.

—Awarded damages to a Corpus Christi woman injured in falling over an empty Woolco Department Store merchandise platform.

AG Opinions

Texas Water Quality Board has power to set water quality standards for waters occupying privately-owned beds connecting with public waterways, Atty. Gen. John Hill held.

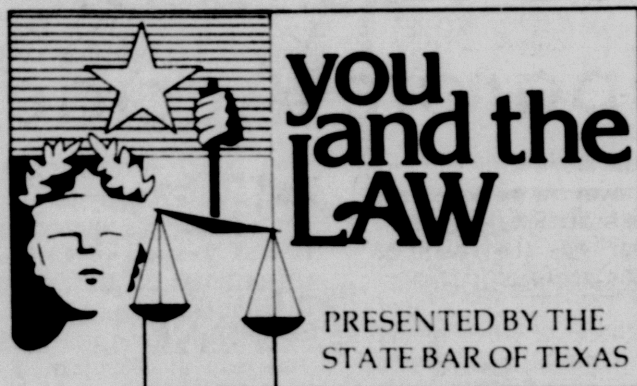

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

Water Quality Board has no general authority to engage in land use planning.

The comptroller may require county or probate clerks to file reports on list of claims.

A barber cannot be denied a license renewal because he is in jail.

Texas unemployment moved up to tenth of one per cent last month, bringing to 5.4 per cent the jobless rate.

Q: If I die without a will, is it true that my wife would have to get permission from the probate court before she could sell our home and move into an apartment with our children?

A: State law provides that one-half of the community property accumulated by you and your wife during your marriage automatically is transferred to your children if you die without a will. If your home was purchased with your salary or other community income during your marriage, the law would require your wife to obtain permission from the probate judge before she could dispose of any property in which your children had a one-half interest as a result of inheritance from you. These complications can be avoided by having a will which specifies that all of your property will pass to your wife when you die.

Q: If my son is picked up by the police and taken to juvenile court, do we have to provide a lawyer for him?

A: If the juvenile court authorities file a petition seeking to declare your son a delinquent, state law requires that your son must be represented by a lawyer to protect his legal rights during any proceedings involving juvenile court. You, as his parent, are responsible under the law for providing your son legal counsel. If the juvenile court determines you cannot afford a lawyer, the court will appoint one for you.

Q: My landlord said he might lock me out if I fall behind in my rent payments. Can he do that?

A: No, you cannot be locked out of your apartment for failure to pay rent. However, the landlord may change the door lock when your rent is overdue. If he changes the lock, he must leave a notice on the door telling where the key can be picked up at all hours, regardless of whether the overdue rent is still unpaid.

Q: Can I require my husband to move out of our house until our divorce case is completed?

A: Yes. The judge who will consider your divorce decree can issue an order requiring your husband to leave until the case is tried in court. If your husband does not comply with the court order, you may ask the judge to direct the sheriff to enforce the order.

Off To A Growing Start... How Much Wheat...

Lowest Since 1964 As Well As 1966.

Except for isolated areas, crop conditions throughout the state are generally described as good to excellent. For most of the state, rains have fallen in sufficient amounts to get crops off and growing. Farmers throughout Texas are either busy getting ready to plant or are in the fields seeding cotton, corn, and sorghum.

Corn planting is expected to gain momentum this week and already about a fourth of the 1976 crop has been planted.

Excellent planting moisture for cotton is available from the Low Plains southward. Planting of that crop is on schedule in the Coastal Bend, Lower Rio Grande Valley and South Central Texas. On the High Plains, farmers have completed seedbed preparations and are applying preplant irrigation. Thus far, only about 10 per cent of the 1976 crop has been planted.

Sorghum planting is moving ahead rapidly with around 40 per cent of that crop already seeded. Excellent stands have emerged in most areas and are showing good growth despite some weather problems.

Rice planting in the coastal areas of the state is moving ahead, too, but is not as far advanced as a year ago.

A CROP REPORT DUE about April 9 will be watched with interest by farmers as well as consumers. It will be a special winter wheat crop report and will include expected production for five states, including Texas.

Extremely dry weather early in the growing season worried producers and consumers about prospects for the 1976 crop. The wheat in Texas has generally responded well to warmer weather and moderate rainfall. The crop is heading out in the southern portions of the state and is joining in the northern sections of Texas.

HOG AND PIG INVENTORIES in Texas are the lowest in 10 years and sheep and lambs on feed in the state are the lowest in 14 years, according to reports from the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service.

Hog and pig numbers on Texas farms as of March 1 totaled 790,000 head; hogs and pigs kept for breeding are estimated at 130,000, which is eight per cent above a year ago.

Hog producers in the state intend to farrow 43,000 sows now through May, which is up 26 percent from the same period in 1975.

Nationwide, hog and pig numbers are up two per cent from a year ago. Farrowing intentions in 14 states are expected to show an increase of 10 per cent over 1975.

Sheep and lambs on feed in Texas as of the first of March totaled 122,000; this is down 28 per cent from a year ago and it is 35 per cent below Jan. 1 of this year. It is also the lowest March 1 total since 1964.

Resistant Grain Still Has Bugs

Grain sorghum producers will probably be disappointed when they find greenbugs on their greenbug resistant sorghum. Actually, probably a more meaningful description would be greenbug "tolerant" sorghum.

The resistant varieties on the market today do not claim to be free of greenbugs, they can, however, withstand a large number of greenbugs before damage occurs.

The "resistant or tolerant" sorghum depend a great deal on naturally occurring beneficial insects to keep the greenbug population below the level where yield damage would occur.

Aphids In Grain

Several grain sorghum fields have been checked in Williamson and Milam Counties. Aphids (greenbugs, yellow sugarcane aphids, and corn leaf aphids) are in extremely low numbers in all fields checked. Most sorghum checked was approximately ten to fourteen days old (starting from time of emergence.)

"The Space ship blew over and all the little men are gone" - was a report we received from a farmer in Milam County. He was referring to the Moth ZV blacklight trap used to collect bollworm and tobacco budworm information for the pest management program.

A gust of wind blew over the trap late last week. All traps are now operational and date collection will start on April 5. The mishap will not affect our predictions.

Twin-Seeded Sorghum Due Production Boost

The grain sorghum industry is expected to receive another production boost soon with the release of twin-seeded breeding materials by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

The materials are going to commercial seed companies, where two to three years will be required to produce enough planting seed for sale to sorghum growers.

Dr. Fred Miller, the Experiment Station's research leader on the project, says the release, designated as TP11R, marks the third major advance in sorghum improvement over the past 35-40 years. First, there were the varieties developed especially for mechanical harvesting, then the hybrids of the 1950s. Now it's twin seeding.

How much yield increase is expected from this latest advance?

Twin-flowering, which leads to twin-seeding, would seem to mean a 100 percent jump in grain output. But Miller says nature is not that cooperative. A 20 percent yield increase is more realistic.

There are promising possibilities, however. On carefully controlled test plots, Miller and his associates have grown some hybrids that are nearly 100 percent more productive than single seeded types. A few first-generation hybrids have performed about 50 percent better than single-seeders.

TP11R is the result of four years of research, started by crossing a three-foot combine type with an Ethiopian variety. Further crossing and re-crossing eventually came up with TP11R. In the process, Miller managed to work in such traits as resistance to disease and greenbugs, good grain quality, and lodging resistance.

Twin flowers, he says, reduces the number of flowers that turn into grain. Seeds weigh about 12 percent less than some standard hybrid seeds. But by increasing seeds per head, the twinning gives more overall head weight and higher per-acre yields.

"That's the important thing - more yield per unit of area of land," Miller says.

Maturity varies from early to late, while seed color ranges from white to brown. Pericarp thickness also is variable.

When seed supplies build up enough for commercial production, farmers who give twin-seeded sorghums a try should recognize that more intensive management will be required.

Miller notes that the correct number of plants per acre is of particular importance. It is believed that twin-seeded materials respond to heavier doses of fertilizer, and application at different intervals may be necessary. Irrigation management and weed, insect, and disease control also will require closer attention.

Tomato Plant Can Cause Frustration To Grower

Just about every home gardener has a few tomato plants that are his pride and joy. But there's more to growing a good crop of tomatoes than just setting out the plants.

"Tomatoes can be some of the most rewarding garden plants, but they can also bring frustration," points out Sam Cotner, horticulturist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

For success at growing tomatoes, Cotner offers a few pointers.

"First of all, select varieties that are adapted to the area and that resist many of the common diseases. Such varieties as Spring Giant, Homestead, Porter, Terrific, or Small Fry are excellent for most areas of Texas.

"When buying tomato plants, select those that are short, stocky, and dark green - ones that are about as tall as they are wide.

"Be sure to locate tomatoes in an area that receives at least six hours of sunlight a day.

"Plant tomatoes in a soil rich in organic matter and containing adequate fertilization. Allow about four square feet of space for each plant.

"Set the plants somewhat deeper than they were originally growing. Apply a starter solution; one can be made by mixing one or two tablespoons of a complete fertilizer in a gallon of water.

"To reduce wilting, set out plants on a cloudy day or late in the afternoon. Protect them from adverse conditions such as high winds or excessive heat by providing some cover, such as milk cartons with the ends cut out.

"As the plants begin to grow, provide some form of support to keep fruit off the ground, such as stakes, trellises or wire cages.

"At first bloom, dust or spray tomatoes for both insects and diseases. Once plants start setting fruit, apply small amounts of fertilizer every week or so.

County Agent's Notes

Cattle Parasite Problem Told

By Bill McCutchen

In a short pasture grass year such as this one, internal parasites - worms - are a real burden to that old cow and calf. Many have been slighted anyway because of poor beef prices and internal parasites are adding to the health problems.

Cattle severely affected with worms may show diarrhea and loss of condition. Most may not exhibit obvious signs but do not gain weight as expected. Internal parasites rob the host of protein and red cells from the blood, thus making the animal more susceptible to other infections.

These parasites also interfere with normal digestion of feed so that the host is not able to get maximum value from forage eaten. In addition, feed moves more rapidly through the gut, and less is absorbed into the body.

An adequate program for the control of internal parasites requires more than just the giving of occasional doses of worm medicine. A pasture rotation program is important to allow sunlight, heat, and time to kill a large portion of the immature larvae in the pastures.

Problems Continue

Producers need to realize there are immature worms encysted in the wall of the stomach as well as adult worms in the gut.

While the worm medicine does a good job of removing adult worms, it has little effect upon immature worms.

With the removal of adult worms, the immature parasites complete their development and invade the gut, leaving the animal in about the same condition as originally.

Therefore, a second dose of worm medicine is necessary three to four weeks following the first to do a thorough job of eliminating the para-

Choose Right Breed Of Chicken

"Whether you have a large poultry operation or are a small flock owner, you need to select the right breeds of chickens for the right job," says Dr. William O. Cawley, a poultry specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"It's not enough to use one breed of chicken for both egg and meat production," says Dr. William O. Cawley. "An egg producer needs a certain breed of chicken and a meat producer needs another."

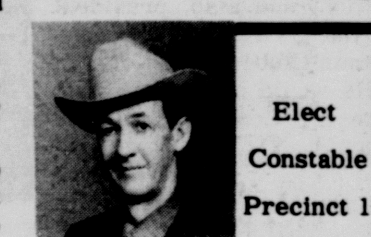

Cawley says birds select for egg production should meet certain standards and that a leghorn-type bird is best for the production of high quality white shelled eggs.

"A hen should lay 240 eggs during the first year of production and should produce a dozen eggs on four pounds of feed or less," says the Texas A&M University System specialist. "A dozen eggs should weigh 24 ounces after the third month of production but should not weigh over 25 1/2 ounces after the first year."

Birds used for egg production should weigh between 3 1/4 pounds and 3 1/2 pounds at 21 weeks of age.

The mortality rate of the birds should not be more than 12 percent during the first year of production.

"Egg shells should be of high quality, and no more than three percent of all eggs produced should have flaws such as weak shells or blood spots," notes Cawley.

Navy Recruiter Featured In Service Magazine

Senior Chief Ship's Serviceman Bill McGlasson, son of Mrs. May Will McGlasson and son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Odell Biggs of Cameron, has recently been featured in the magazine "Navy Recruiter." Both Biggs are Cameron teachers.

Chief Glasson has been so successful in his duties as top recruiter that his officers still study his techniques, according to the magazine article.

He has served in the Navy

Recruiting District, San Francisco, for around five years. Before this time, he served aboard the USS Worcester and the USS St. Paul.

He has done shore duty at Crane, Ind., and has been at sea on the USS America. He has served aboard the USS Enterprise and the USS Regulus. While with the USS Enterprise he was selected as "Man of the Month."

He has been selected as his district's nominee for "Recruiter of the Year" in competition with 182 recruiters. McGlasson has received a Letter of Commendation for the high number of minorities he has recruited.

When asked for the reason for his success, he is quick to attribute a lot of it to the support he gets from his wife, Nita, daughter of the Odell Biggs of Cameron.

Nita was the first black teacher at Martinez Elementary School and opened many doors for McGlasson through the school system, according to Lt. Dale Wilkison, author of the Navy recruiter article on McGlasson.

McGlasson has recently been appointed zone supervisor with his responsibilities expanding to include planning monthly and quarterly recruiting goals and to opening new sources of communication with the community.

According to the "Recruiter" magazine, "with successful stints as a recruiter and zone supervisor under his belt, Chief McGlasson is now serving as a special assistant to the commanding officer for NRD San Francisco's highly successful minority recruiting program. His abilities have gained the confidence and assistance of the most influential Black leaders in the bay area."

TJC To Offer Auto Courses

Next fall Temple Junior College will offer five Auto Mechanics programs in the college's vocational-technical division.

The programs are an expansion of the two-semester program which has been offered in the past, according to Stanley Churchill, vocational-technical dean.

The new programs will consist of five units. After completing a unit, the student has the option of seeking employment or advancing to the next unit of study.

The one-semester unit, Service Station Attendant, deals with basic automotive skills and is aimed at the do-it-yourselfers and persons seeking employment as service station attendants.

The two-semester unit, Service Station mechanic, is a one-year program to prepare the student for a managerial or ownership position in the service station industry.

'Fish Sniffers' Are Among Odd Ways Of Living

The Food and Drug Administration would be crippled without its organoleptic analysts. FDA employs about two dozen "fish sniffers"—chemists whose trained nostrils quiver at the faintest whiff of age in shipments of imported seafood or similar perishables. When one of these inspectors turns up his nose at anything, it goes back to the shipper or faces destruction. Fish sniffing is only one of hundreds of unusual ways of making a living, the National Geographic Society says. Flickers and Skaters In some cities, snow flickers make their daily rounds on cold days, flicking snow and ice from the slots of parking meters so motorists can deposit their coins. A West Coast aircraft plant hired roller skaters in order to speed papers and parts to desks and workbenches throughout the sprawling structure. With speed, the skaters also need agility to slalom around pillars and machinery and skirt startled pedestrians at corridor intersections. Natural history museums frequently employ "bone men," who may have a variety of job titles but whose work is essentially the same: preparing skeletal specimens for eventual display. Knives, chemical baths, and beetle larvae may be used to clean the bones, which then are bleached white with hydrogen peroxide before being assembled and exhibited. Less grim, but possibly more boring, is the work of the sheet examiners at the Bureau of Engraving. They routinely handle hundreds of thousands of dollars every day, discarding the "partlys" and the "mutts"—flawed and mutilated bills. Misleading Titles Some unusual jobs have titles that are deceptive. Piano punchers, for example, are textile workers who produce lace by punching intricate patterns on a piano-like keyboard. Another non-musical piano player works in the chemical industry. His "piano," shaped like the concert instrument, analyzes the elements in chemical samples. And a cracker man isn't found in a bakery, although a squirrel man frequents forests. The former feeds rubber into machinery that coats tire fabrics, while the latter is a lumberjack who cuts the tops off tall timber. A teratogenist could be helpful to anyone planning a Halloween party, since he or she fabricates monsters. Ant egg collectors and flea fishermen do just what their job titles imply. They raid ant hills for eggs or skim swampy ponds for water fleas, both of which are processed into fish and bird food.

Less Drudgery... ... More Living

That's what retirement has meant to Fred and Frances. Of course, they spent close to forty years getting themselves ready.

They learned the richness of living... the adventures of believing and serving and sacrificing. They surrounded themselves with people who care, who are concerned, who like helping others. They based their lives on truths and ideals that do not change with every passing opportunity or disappointment. They found God.

Now they are prepared to enjoy the rest of life.

Not the REST. Who looks forward to idleness?

Rather THE REST... the years not yet lived... the unfolding culmination of our destiny as children of God.

In the lives of Fred and Frances, retirement has been one more Christian adventure. And a blessing to their church, their community and their family. They have more time now for things they ALWAYS valued most.

Along with Mrs. Doris Gleason of Cameron and Mrs. Jimmy Hauk of Buckholts, she used a dramatic presentation involving all present, to show how a woman applying for the superintendency of a large school system would be received by the Board of Trustees, the men principals of the system's schools, the PTA, the men's civic organizations, the Classroom Teachers - all represented by the Beta Nu members present.

Mrs. Herbert Nance of Cameron, vice - president, in the absence of Mrs. Roy Hensley, president, presided over the short business session, during which Mrs. Herman Willi reported from the Membership Committee, and Mrs. Nance asked that all reports be sent to Alpha State Chairmen, and present officers and chairmen of Beta Nu bring all guides, program manuals, and reports to the May meeting to be passed on to the new officers and chairmen.

CONSUMER CORNER

COLLEGE STATION

In the wake of current low beef prices, housewives are urged to stock their freezers Things are destined to change.

"Current beef prices are lower now than they are going to be for the remainder of the year and possibly longer," points out Dr. Ernest Davis, a livestock marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The low prices for Choice beef are due to two reasons, notes the Texas A&M University System specialist. "First of all, both cattle and calf slaughter have climbed sharply in recent months - in February cattle slaughter was up 10 percent and calf slaughter skyrocketed 33 percent over the same month a year ago. Thus beef supplies increased sharply.

"The second reason for the drop in Choice beef prices was a decline in consumer demand. Consumers were besieged with Christmas bills the past two months and therefore had less money to spend on Choice beef," notes Davis.

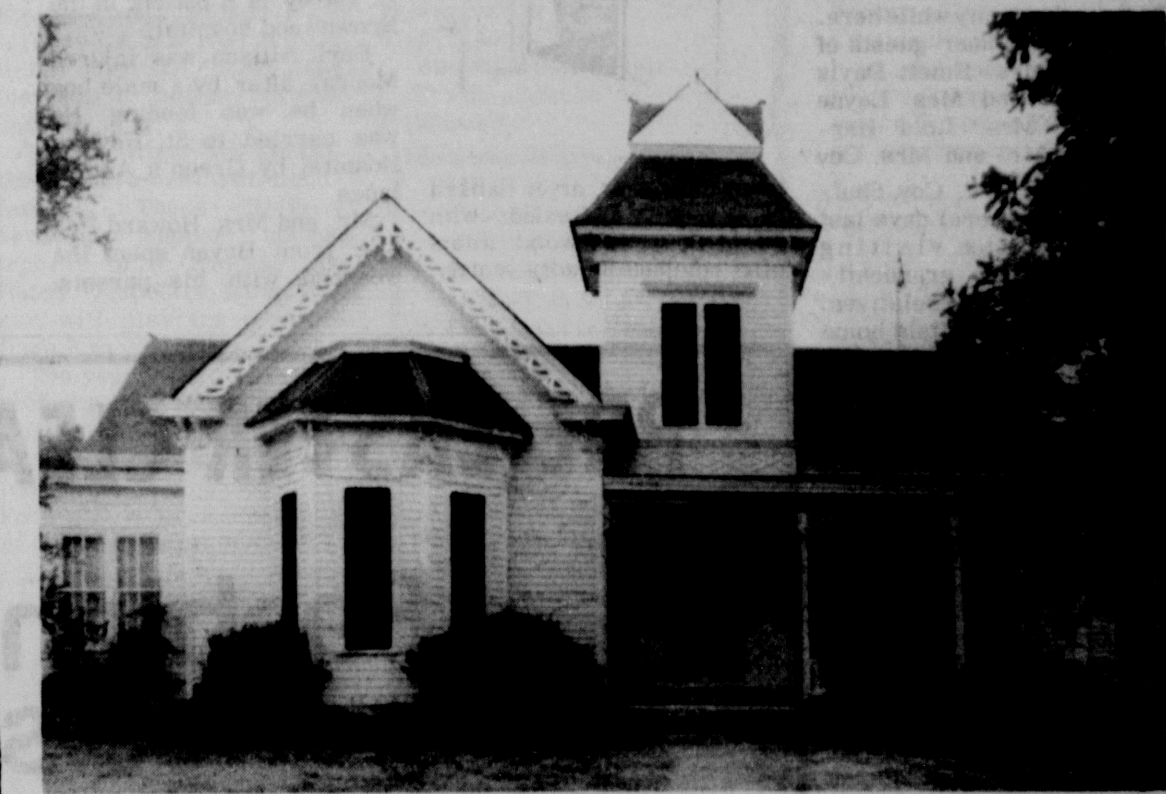

Choice fed steers in Texas are currently bringing about $34 per hundredweight compared to $46.75 at the beginning of the year. At the same time, the retail price of Choice beef has dropped from $1.50 per pound to $1.42.

What does the future hold?

"The market has about bottomed out," believes the specialist. "Fed cattle marketings should be down during the second quarter of the year compared to the first three months. Also, fewer cows and calves will be moving to slaughter as pastures begin to flourish and provide grazing.

"This means there will be less beef on the market, and prices should move back up to where they were at the start of the year," contends Davis.

JACK HART HOUSE - CALVERT

Historical Commission Plans Calvert Tour

The quite easy way of life so many people long for and dream of still can be found in the quaint Victorian community of Calvert, Texas.

Calvert is a town where the people keep the old ways alive and remember the days when the cotton empire, which created the town, was King. Considered by experts to be the largest assemblage of true Victoriana in the state, Calvert is just that, from its 1890s Main Street to its wealth of century old homes.

A drive into Calvert's residential area is like a step back in time. The century old park with its restored gazebos offers a charming and quiet setting for a weekend or family gathering. Recently Calvert has gained prominence as "The Antique Center of Texas" with eleven antique shops and many boutique and specialty shops open to the public.

On April 10 and 11, the Robertson County Historical Commission will present their fourth Spring Pilgrimage. Six Victorian homes and fine historic churches will be open to the public, all antique and specialty shops will be open, and western sculptor artist, Clay Dalberg will guest star at the art show held in an old restored saloon. Food will be served at several locations throughout the town.

There is more iron in three large eggs than in three ounces of tuna.

DUNKING...

Welcome back. The art of stuffing the basketball through the cylinder with hands above the rim is back after an absence of 10 years.

Dunking, or stuffing, was ruled out by the National Basketball Rules Committee in 1966-67. This rule pertained to high school and colleges. The pros have always been permitted to dunk.

Although the rule change has only been permitted for colleges, the rules that govern colleges and high schools are the same and expectations are that the high school level ball will also be permitted to dunk.

According to Yoe High basketball Coach Ken Poole, official word has not yet been issued. "I have not heard from any official source; however, I feel that the rule change will also pertain to high school level," Poole said. "We are governed by the NCAA which also governs the college level."

The dunking situation will only be permitted during a game. Dunking will be prohibited during the pre-game warm up and half time. The penalty for dunking will continue to be a technical foul.

Other rule changes that might affect high school basketball will include a two-shot technical foul for coaches' conduct on the bench.

Officiating will be upgraded in three areas: holding violations, eliminating delay of game prior to free throws and throw-ins and fouls called when a player falls to the floor in a deliberate attempt to draw a foul.

The rules committee is encouraging better administration in these three areas.

Rules are slow to change in many sports. This is a good example of the process of change. It has been 10 years since the dunking rule was permitted in college level basketball. At the time there was no real strong point of why dunking was illegal.

Whatever the reason, time has changed the opinion of the rules committee and it is a good move. I welcome back dunking, it adds excitement to the game.

While there will be dunking on the court-coaches keep quiet on the bench because a two-shot technical is pretty stiff.

GOLF...

While the rains soaked Cameron Monday the Yoe golf team was swinging into district action in Austin. The team was playing the first round and then were to play the second round Tuesday in Caldwell.

The rainy weather forced the district tournament to be stopped and moved to Caldwell. The district meet is underway at presstime and all twenty-seven holes will be played at the Caldwell course.

According to golf coach Ed Cauley the district winner will be determined in the tournament at Caldwell.

TRACK TIME...

District meets for the high school girls, junior high girls and junior high boys will be run this weekend. The Yoe High girls will be running this Friday in Austin.

The meet is being hosted by Austin Westlake High School. The junior high girls division will be in conjunction with the high school meet.

The boys junior high division will be run on Saturday. The meet is being hosted by Hearne Junior High.

EQUAL WHAT?...

For the past couple of years girls have been infiltrating boys sports. A suit ended up in the Supreme Court three years ago that granted girls the right to play in boys little league baseball.

In Fergus Fall Minn. two male students say that they have been discriminated against because they can't try out for the women's softball team in that city.

The case, if pursued might also end up in the Supreme Court. The true test will be whether or not the males have a right to participate with the discriminated females.

Is there such a thing as "Equal Rights" in sports or can everyone say they are being discriminated against? Some just have more ability than others... male or female.

BASEBALL...

The opening district game against the Rosebud - Lott Cougars has been changed to this Thursday. The change was due to the raining weather in Cameron.

The Yoe hardballers will then face Hearne in their second district game Friday in Hearne. The game is scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m.

The make-up game against the Cougars will be made up the following Monday if weather against delays the game. The district rule states that the game must be played at the same site on the next playable date other than Wednesday.

SMITHERMAN & MONDRIK.

Final decisions have been reached by two more Yoe men. Joe Smitherman who waited on a possible selection to play at Baylor has signed a letter of intent with Blinn Jr. College to play football.

Hopes of the Baylor scholarship were given up after Smitherman was pursued by Blinn. Smitherman was also sought after by other colleges including senior college offers. Playing for Blinn there will still be a opportunity for a transfer to Baylor.

Joey Mondrik will play football at the Naval Academy Prep School (NAPS) in New Port, Rhode Island. Mondrik will play for one year at NAPS and after an assessment of his scholastic standing he will then transfer into the Naval Academy.

Mondrik received an appointment to the Naval Academy from Congressman Bob Poague. Only boys have received nominations from Congress are permitted to attend NAPS.

Mondrik joins the ranks of three other Yoe seniors to be awarded football scholarships.

NEWS OF SPORTS

By Vern Sanford

Successful fishing depends a lot on how often you're able to get out and fish. How often depends largely on the proximity of good fishing water.

These factors are very important today with gasoline gradually increasing in price for both the car and the outboard motor. So, simple arithmetic tell us to look for good fishing places close to home.

You'll be greatly surprised in many cases, just how much fishing fun can be found in nearby ponds, rivers, streams, and small lakes. Furthermore, if you're near a large impoundment you'll be equally pleased that it isn't necessary to travel miles upstream or miles downstream to locate fish.

"Stocke" Stockebrand, who fishes in Canada for three months every summer (and has done so for 33 consecutive years), tells me that up there they fly from the various fishing camps on pontoon-equipped planes to favorite fishing holes as many as 100 miles away.

One day Stocke (the photographer) decided to remain in camp and make some "scene" shots. Late that evening, just as the planes began to return to camp, "Stocke" (the fisherman) decided to try out some new lures. His first cast brought in a nice walleye. On seeing his catch, the not so successful anglers unloaded their equipment from the plane and began to work the immediate area... and caught fish.

Such incidents as this happen often.

I was in Wisconsin one summer for a conference. The lodge where we stayed was close to town, so I decided to walk to the village and visit a tackle shop. When I inquired about a good fishing place, the proprietor asked where I was staying. When I told him, he said, "Right there off the bank of the lake at the lodge is as good a place to fish as any."

Early the next morning I took a stroll and ended up at the dock almost directly in front of the lodge. While looking the situation over a teenager from Kansas came up and began readying his equipment and placing it in an aluminum boat.

In the field events Kenneth Scott placed 6th in the shot with a 49'1" toss.

Yoe runners will be competing in the Gatesville Relays Saturday and in the final meet before district the Yoe tracksters will be in Madisonville.

Team totals -- Rockdale, 107; Brenham, 72; Midway, 60; Belton, 54; Cameron, 44; Jefferson, Moore, 31; Gatesville, 30; Round Rock, 26; Copperas Cove, 23; Hearne, 22.

ELECT LEROY BROADUS SHERIFF OF MILAM COUNTY

When you go to the polls to elect your Sheriff of Milam County, I hope you will consider these facts about me and my qualifications as a candidate for the office of Sheriff:

I am 41 years old, have a wife and two children, and reside in Cameron.

I served as a Highway Patrolman with the Texas Department of Public Safety for 16 years, 12 of which were served in Milam County.

My qualifications and training include more than 850 hours of Department of Public Safety training encompassing Criminal Law, Highway Law, Narcotics, Gathering of Evidence, Case Preparation, and Presentation of Evidence to Courts. I am a certified Texas Peace Officer, and fully experienced in all phases of law enforcement, as well as protecting the rights of our citizens.

I believe the Texas Department of Public Safety offers the best training program in the State, and I can provide for Milam County modern and efficient crime-fighting technology that will help halt the trend of growing crime in both our towns and rural areas. I will work with all police departments, constables, the DPS, and other law enforcement agencies.

I will employ only certified and qualified deputies, people who are trained in law enforcement. When a crime has been committed and the criminal apprehended, the arresting officer's job is only half done. There must be a follow-up investigation, evidence must be gathered and preserved, and the case organized and presented to the court, or the criminal walks free... and many times to repeat the same offense.

Having lived in the county for 12 years, I am aware of and understand many of the problems of our young people as well as our older citizens, and I want each of you to know that as your Sheriff I will stand ready to help you in any way I can... at any time of the day or night. This is no idle campaign promise. I am sincere in my desire to do what I can to help eliminate as many existing problems as we can.

I am attempting to personally contact as many people as I can, but we have a big county, and if I have missed you and you would like to talk to me personally, please call me and I'll come to you. I want to job of Sheriff, I want to serve you, and I assure you your vote and support will be appreciated.
